

Bramley Road, London

A rare opportunity to purchase a large four-bedroom, three-bathroom Edwardian end of terrace home located just a short distance from South Ealing and Northfield tube stations.

At close to 1500 sq ft and located close to some of the best local schools Ealing has to offer, the property comes in need of some modernisation and would suit a buyer looking to imprint their own style and stamp on a large family home.

In brief, the property comes with four bedrooms, three bathrooms, two receptions and a large separate kitchen. The property is well placed on the road and allows for the property to be flooded with light and has the added benefit of off-street parking and no onward chain.
